

SAFEWORK NSW AND WASTE CONTRACTORS & RECYCLERS ASSOCIATION OF NSW

PARTNERSHIP AGREEMENT 2016

SafeWork NSW and the Waste Contractors and Recyclers Association of NSW will work together to identify emerging issues and share knowledge and expertise to achieve healthy, safe and productive workplaces.

SafeWork NSW administers the work health and safety laws in NSW. Our purpose is to prevent harm and improve the safety culture in NSW workplaces. We respond to workplace incidents, and to requests for services from the NSW community. We aim to help reduce the social and economic costs of workplace injuries and illnesses.

The Waste Contractors and Recyclers Association of NSW (WCRA) represents a large proportion of the waste management sector in NSW. WCRA is dedicated to ensuring its members are aware of their legislative and regulatory obligations to ensure safe workplaces and safe practices, as well as building a work safety culture in the waste management sector in NSW.

STATEMENT OF INTENT

SafeWork NSW and WCRA will work together to identify emerging issues and share knowledge and expertise to achieve healthy, safe and productive workplaces. They will do this through:

- Communication and consultation that focuses on improved work health and safety, injury management and return to work across the waste management sector.
- Leadership at each organisation that promotes and values improved work health and safety, injury management and return to work employment.
- Genuine cooperation to promote the importance of effective workplace safety and injury management, and the development of practical, cost effective solutions that deliver sustainable work health and safety, injury management and return to work employment.
